AN OUTRAGE .- A squad of six or seven soldiers, on Wednesday night, about eleven o'clock, visited the residence of Mr. J. Wolf, on Main street, below Tenth, and demanded admittance under the pretext that they were seeking deserters. Mr. Wolf admitted them. saying at the same time that there were no deserters about his premises, and that they must be mistaken in the house. In the passage-way of Mr. Wolf's residence there is a side-door leading into a drinking-saloon, which he rents to a tenant. The soldiers demanded of him in an insolent manner to open the door and admit them into the saloon. He told them all the circumstances, that he had no right to open it, that he rented it to a gentleman, who was absent, and had nothing to do with it whatever. They then said they would force the door, that they wanted liquor, and proceeded to carry into effect their threat. The bar-keeper, who slept in the saloon, told them, through the shut door, that the first man who attempted to break it open would meet with instant death. His firmness seemed to cool them off a little, and they went away ring the deepest threats against Mr. and the saloon-keeper. Mr. Wolfe is a loyal man, is in the employ of Mr. Thomas, merchant tailor, at the Louisville Hotel, and it is very unfortunate that he should thus be subject to the threats and indignity of those whose duty it is to protect him. We know, from our own personal observation, that the most of the soldiers in and around our city are gentlemen, but that some BASIL DUKE,-The St. Louis Union says that Col. He, aided by the other Police Commissioners, organized the police to participate in the capture of the arsenal and the arrest of Union men, and at one time he had forty bunks prepared in the calaboose for the accommodation of the prominent Unionists whom he expected to seize and imprison. We have no doubt he has a lively remembrance of these little matters. Now he is a prisoner himself, and, we imagine, his career is at an end.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT .- The freight train due at 3 P. SIONAL DISTRICT. In accepting the nomination by the Union Convention as candidate for Congress in the Ashland District, in place of the lamented Mr.

Crittenden, it may be proper that I should make a short statement of my political principles in regard to the present crisis.

I am, and always have been for the preservation of the Constitution and the Union, and for the vigorous prosecution of the war to subdue the rebellion, which threatens their overthrow. If elected I will vote for the nec-essary measures to carry on the war to the extent of the national power and resources. To my mind, it would be far wiser at once to acknowledge the success of the rebellion, and make a treaty for separation, than to insure its triumph, and the degradation of the loyal States, by refusing to vote the means of sus-States, by fetting to vote the means of sustaining the military strength of the nation.

At the same time, I am opposed to the policy of the Administration, as the abolition of slavery, and the enlisting of slaves as soldiers, and while in the State Legislature, I voted for the various resolutions which were passed, condemning those measures.

But I do not regard revolution, or secession, or a submission to the rebellion, as the remedies for that evil, policy, they being evils, incomparably greater. The remedies are in the Union, and under the Constitution and laws, through the Legislatures and Judicial tribu-nals. Should the Union be restored, it would be for the courts of the slave States to decide upon the legal effects of the President procla-

Until the Union shall be restored, the rebels, while depridating upon the commerce of the loyal citizens, on the ocean, and upon the property of the citizens of Kentucky, Missouri, and other loyal States, in their predasouri, and other loyal States, in their preda-tory raids, cannot rightfully complain that their property in slaves is not respected more than other property by the armies of the Union. I am not and have never been in favor of emancipation, either gradual, immediate, or compensated.

I was a member of the Union Convention which assembled in Louisville in March last, and voted for the platform, of principles they adopted, and intend, so far as they apply, to be guided by them should I be honored with position before you in public discussion. As this cannot take place, I thought it better that you should fully and fairly understand my principles than the argument and reasons by which they are sustained.

THE LAMENTED CRITTENDEN'S ADVICE TO KENTUCKIANS IN THIS JUNCTURE. - We take the following extracts from the speech delivweeks ago, his last published speech:

But, my resolutions proved ineffective. My apprehensions that the shock of war might change the national feelings of Congress, were verified. Still, I was for the war. Notwithstanding the Conscription Act, notwithstanding the Emancipation Proclamation and the emancipation laws, notwithstanding the pol of raising negro armies, and the talk about negro equality with white men as soldiers— and I voted against them all—notwithstand-ing their adoption, I have still advocated the prosecution of the war. While the rebellion was before me, while the great enemy of my country was before me, I was still for the war, without an armistice, regardless of foreign insary—till the rebellion is put down. I was dissatisfied with the policy of the Administration. I thought it my duty to tell Congress and the Government that we thought

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED IN KENTUCKY .-The following order has been issued by the General commanding this Department: HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE OHIO, CINCINNATI, O., July 31.

General Orders, No. 120. Whereas, The State of Kentucky is invaded by a rebel force, with the avowed intention of overawing the Judges of Elections, of intimidating the loyal voters, keeping them from the polls, and forcing the election of disloyal candidates at the election on the 3d of August; and whereas, the military power of the government is the only force that can defeat this attempt, the State of Kentucky is hereby declared under martial law, and all military officers are commanded to aid the constituted authorities of the State in the support of the laws, and of the purity of suffrage as defined in the late Proclamation of his Excellency Governor Robinson. As it is not the intention of the Commanding General to interfere with the proper expression of public opinion, all discretion in the conduct of the election will be used in the hands of the legally appointed judges at the polls, who will be held strictly responsible that no disloyal person be allowed to vote, and to this end the military power is ordered to give them its utmost support. The civil authority, civil courts, and business will not be suspended by this order. It is for the purpose only of prozens, and the freedom of election.

By command of Maj.-Gen. Burnside [Official] LEWIS RICHMOND, A. A. J. R. H. J. GODDARD, A. A. A. G. This order speaks for itself. The facts it recites are attested by the actual presence of the invading force, and the means it pre- unequalled Unionism and of his superlative scribes are self-evidently the only means adequate to maintain the freedom of election under the constitution and laws of the Commonwealth. Undoubtedly the secessionists mongst us will deem the means very unpalatable, because they so deem the end itself: but, in view of the crisis to which the obstinate plotting of the secessionists has brought affairs in the State, wise and patriotic citizens will recognize the propriety of both alike. The question in Kentucky has been narrowed down by the secessionists themselves to the simple issue as to whether the freedom of election under the constitution and laws of the State shall be destroyed by the rebel army or be maintained by the army of the Union. This is the whole issue in a nutshell. The presence of a rebel force, acting avowedly in support of the secession party, has directly challenged this issue. The order of General Burnside simply takes up the challenge. In issuing this order General Burnside has taken the first step in the discharge of a plain and imperative duty. The eminently a Union man and that he has not ocrat was saying this, come back again? And next step in the discharge of this duty is the energetic and thorough enforcement of the order. The issue is now fairly joined between the constitution and laws of Kentucky, backed by the army of the Union, and the treasonable schemes of the secession party, backed by gan arrived at the Ohio penitentiary and was driven from Kentucky when it was, but for a rebel army already far within our borders. We summon every law-abiding citizen to the his pockets with grace and ease. He has side of Kentucky and of the Union of the emptied other people's pockets so often that Constitution. RALLY ONCE MORE FOR THE UNION. Citizens of Louisville, this is no time for lethargy. While your brethren are in the field battling against armed rebels, you have a more insidious foe at home, who is secretly delving to undermine your Constitution and Government, to contend with.

Be up and doing. Show your heartiness to the cause by going to the polls on Monday next in a solid column to sustain your loyal Union candidates, and defeat traitors who would disband your armies in the field by withholding the soldiers' pay.

Come one, come all to the courthouse on rday night to hear Judge Marshall, Col. Looney, Col. Marc Mundy, and others, discuss the important propositions in which your political destiny is involved, that you may be more ready and willing for the work on Monday.

Mr. Wickliffe says that John Morgan took four horses from him. Yes, we have Thursday. The Mercury hopes that he may often heard that Morgan treated his best friends as badly as his worst enemies.

Mr. W. tells us, that, in consequence of this act of Morgan's, he hates him worse than ever. No doubt of it in the world. Morgan had previously stolen many thousands of other people's horses, he had seized stock, robbed pockets and money-chests, burned houses, put men to the torture, and committed murder, and Mr. Wickliffe could manage to tolerate him pretty well, but at length the big bandit, under the heavy press of circumstances, takes some of Mr. W.'s horses, and the old man's fury thereat finds vent in a public speech. The devastation of large tracts of country, the seizure of millions of property and the destruction of other millions, and the murder of unnumbered unoffending men are all but the erest trifle in old W.'s estimation in com-son with the taking of his four horses! The secession party in Kentucky will nake a desperate effort to take the initiatory steps for carrying the State over to the Confederacy, and they have the assurance to expect assistance from our adopted citizens.

Men, who fled from their native land to escape oppression, will hardly help, by their votes, to place themselves under a more galling despotism than they formerly avoided.

Rebels Whipped at Lancaster, Ky.

They Are Driven Out of Standford. Retreating Toward the Cumberland.

An Enthusiastic Meeting in Illinois. Speech by Major-General Logan.

Latest News from the Southwest.

CINCINNATI, July 31. A special from Lexington to the Commer cial says that this morning our forces came upon the rebels at Lancaster, when a considrable fight ensued, in which the enemy lose of killed and wounded, and nearly 100 prisoners. A rebel force of 500 took Stanford our cavalry with considerable loss. At last advices the rebels were hastily retreating toward the Cumberland river.

Duquoin, ILL., July 31. Major-General Logan arrived here this orning, and was met at the depot by a large oncourse of citizens. The committee bade im welcome as the honored son of Illinois and dmired of all loyal men. In a speech at Car-condale, yesterday, he said he had no disposition to discuss politics, for he was not a politician, and thanked God for it. He only wanted to consider what was for the good of the country. When the war was over, we he country. When the war was over, we an ask who is the villain. Now the house is orced at every step to take the measures he had, and yet some cried unconstitutional. We fought the Mexicans because they made war on the Government, and if that war was constitutional, why not this. He ridiculed those who objected to the war stand by him in all his efforts to put down the ebellion even if he sent elephants South to trample them down. All the exigencies of the war, like this, could not be foreseen and provided for by the constitution. The President was empowered to raise armies, and that was sufficient. If this war was uncontutional, Jeff Davis must be right. nded and explained the conscription act and denounced the New York rioters. If the lead s were hung to the first tree we would have whipped, and frown like angry clouds when we were victorious. He exhorted all to do themselves the justice not to die traitors, on ccount of the infamy it would bring on their amilies. We must be for our county, right or trong. A man who is not for the Govern nent would hate heaven if he lived in it. He howed how ridiculous was the peace cry, and said the only way to peace was to soundly thrash the rebels, and they would come back as humbly as need be, and that whipping they would get as sure as God was in heaven, if the people will allow it.

He spoke of the condition of the Govern-He spoke of the condition of the Government at the time when the war broke out. The arms had been nearly all shipped South, but with all these disadvantages what success had been achieved. With regard to the proclamation, he said if the rebels would keep eir negroes let them stop fighting. oclamation was wrong, let them lay down eir arms and appeal to the courts. If the estion was left to the women and children of Mississippi and Louisiana they would say they wanted no more negroes, for the rebel army had demoralized them and ours had made them no better. The institution would be worthless, whether they gain independence

He spoke three hours, completely carrying his audience with him, many times affecting them to tears by his manly and hearty defence our brave soldiers. At the close of the meeting three rousing cheers were given for the Inion, three for Logan, and a series of reso-were present. The removal of slaves from Mississippi to Alabama and Georgia is carried to such an extent that the Governors of those States are said to have turned a large number back. The steamer Empire Parrish, from Port Hudson on the 24th and Vicksburg on the 8th, arrived to-day with about 700 of the 22d Maine regiment en route for the East. 25 sick were transferred to our hospitals. Following this regiment are the 21st, 24th, 25th, and 26th from the same State, all nine months men, whose time has expired. General Banks's army will return North by way of the Mississippi.

All quiet at Port Hudson and Vicksburg.

The fortifications at the former place have been strengthened, and the enlistment of egro troops was progressing rapidly.
A rumor prevailed that Gen. Weitzel had captured three thousand rebels at Donaldson-ville, that Brashear City has been retaken by our forces, and that General Franklin had a red at New Orleans to take command of Banks's army.

General Grant has effected a thorough sysem of mounted patrols between Vicksburg and New Orleans, who, with the gunboats, Everything is quiet. There are no signs of ebels of either shore.

Gen. Grant ordered all the soldiers in hos-

The steamers Choctaw and Starlight arrived yesterday from New Orleans the 22d. Gen. Paine, who lost a leg at Port Hudson, came on the Starlight. The 52d Massachusetts, Col. Greenleaf, also arrived from Port Hud-son, en route East to be mustered out of serice. The regiment is in good condition, and umbers nearly 800.

To the Voters of the Legislative District com

Having consented, at the request of a por-tion of the citizens of this Legislative District; to become a candidate to represent it that I should state for the information of thos who do not know me that I am a determined friend of the Union, and am emphatically a Union man. I believe in the supremacy of the Constitution of the United States and of the constitutional acts of Congress, and of treaties made under the authority of the United States, as expressly declared by the Constitution. I am opposed to secession in all of its phases, and am opposed to the assumption by the State of Kentucky of any attitude which may in fact or by appearance a which secession has inaugurated, and which the last session of our Legislature, and add ed with others by the Union Democratic Convention which assembled here in the spring, present the State of Kentucky in the proper attitude, of protesting against the unce tional acts of the party in power, but declar-ing at the same time that the rebellion must be put down, and that she does not shrink rom her duty in co-operating for the accomplishment of that object.

I approve of the action of the Union Democratic Convention just referred to and shall support the candidates nominated by it or unform. I concur with the common opinion of our State in a decided disapprobation of what are called the radical measures of the late Congress and the President. But I do not regard the withholding of men and money from the war against the rebellion, as a measnre which is required or which would be jus-tified under the present circumstances of the country. At present such a programme seems to be advocated in Kentucky alone, and as her adoption of it alone could have no effect in vindicating the Constitution, but would, by affording an obvious encourage-ment to the rebellion, expose her to the charge of disloyalty and to the evils consequent upon such a position. If there were no other obection to it, its probable effects upon the peace and safety of Kentucky should alone be sufficient to prevent her adoption of such a pro-POTATOES-Sales at $1 50@2 7 bbl. gramme. Kentucky has no inducement to martyrize herself for the benefit of the Southern Confederacy. But it is time, that, instead of countenancing by a vacillating course the claim of that Confederacy of give a signal and final rebuke to so indecorous a claim. I hope this may done by the result of the approach election. The particular interest felt on the slavery question may render it proper for me to say that the question of slavery in the States is one exclusively within the jurisdiction of each State for itself, and is therefore not subject to the will of the Federal Government or

For infractions of the Constitution by the officers of the government, the Constitution it-self furnishes a peaceful remedy, which, though slower than is sometimes desirable, is certain, if the people themselves are to be relied on. But armed and persistent rebellion must be met either by arms or by a concession of its demands. The principles of the Constitution, even if allowed under the pressure of internal war to be in abeyance for a season, will not, cannot be lost. Generations must pass away before the American people can either forget or consent permanently to surrender the principles of liberty established by the founders of the Republic, and so long enjoyed by their
